The season starts up again in March 2010. Review: 5 out of 5 stars Wow. This was incredible, I must say. This season is probably my favorite of all the Grey's Anatomy Seasons. This was really such a beautiful story with such wonderful characters and such amazing actors. It had a lot of emotions for me, there were so many tears in my eyes while watching it. I especially loved Bailey's and Derek's relationship this season because of how it felt. I think that many of us have had people we've loved and I thought that Derek was a great person to be able to portray for so many of us that were going through that situation. I also think that this season it was really apparent that everybody at Grey Sloan and that was probably the most amazing thing about this season. Each of the doctors had a different personality and each was so unique. I loved the storyline between Alex and Teddy and I just wanted to point out that I really loved how each of the doctors were very distinct. Catch up:If you want to watch the first season, I really recommend that you watch season one because season two is basically like a time jump. But after season one I'd still recommend watching the first season and then continue to watch Grey's Anatomy season two. Chloe: Season 3, episode 4. This is what happened in this episode: It's been a few days since Grey's has exploded into war. I remember a couple of weeks ago Meredith left Seattle, and I was like, "Where did she go?" They just announced that Derek and Meredith will have a child. I was so happy about that because I love that couple so much. I feel like Meredith left Seattle in order to protect her baby. She left her daughter with her ex-husband and she knew that he would be able to use the baby for his own benefit. When she left, she had a good idea what would happen, and I think that's why she left, and I'm happy she did. I think she knew that she could protect her baby and I think that Derek and Alex were going to have a child together, but then Derek and Lexie were so in love, and they were so happy. And I don't think Derek could be with two women at the same time. Derek also couldn't have two daughters. I know he was in love with them and it was 82157476af
